Ohio Learning Standards and ELA

Ohio has established learning standards for all grades through high school. Our standards for preschool are geared towards 36 months through 60 months. You may see some of these standards on the report cards or through the Lillio communication system.

As all children learn at their own pace, our teachers are trained in the Early Learning Assessment (ELA) which is observational based. Teachers design lessons, centers and experiences based on standards and student interest. They then observe, support and extend the lessons to fit each child.

The ELA is also standards based however it shows developmental levels from birth through Kindergarten. You will receive information about your child's development through a standard report card twice a year.
